

OPIRG Kingston Orientation Planning Coordinator

In the month of September, OPIRG Kingston, in collaboration with community and campus groups, offers social & environmental justice programming to new and returning Queen's students. Alt Frosh consists of a series of workshops, alternative tours, film screenings, shows and other events aimed at providing an alternative frosh experience for new and returning students. These events occur after formal orientation activities. The intent of Alt Frosh is to offer opportunities to explore and engage aspects of Queen's and Kingston often not seen during the first weeks of the school year, issues of social and environmental justice and connections to activism and alternative spaces.

The Orientation Planning Coordinator will:

1. Reach out to campus and community groups to solicit, support and coordinate Alt Frosh Events
2. Curate an events series that showcases a range of issues
3. Promote Alt Frosh events to returning and incoming students by reaching out to dons, and networking with student groups, campus organizations, etc.
4. Create marketing materials
5. Coordinate all logistical aspects of events (room bookings, accessibility, equipment, refreshments, etc.)
6. Support the OPIRG Coordinator by assisting with regular OPIRG communications, holding office hours, etc.
7. Other duties as required

In previous years this position has taken many different shapes and objectives, and as a result the project is receptive to new ideas and directions based upon community and campus responses.

The ideal candidate will be someone with:

1. Strong organizational and time-management skills
2. Excellent communication and interpersonal skills with the ability to foster working relationships with social justice groups
3. Experience, or a desire to gain experience, coordinating the delivery of programming, such as workshops, discussion spaces, and lectures
4. Strong knowledge of Queen's campus-based organizations that work on issues of social justice, equity, environmental justice, etc.
5. Knowledge of Kingston-based groups and organizations that work on issues of social justice, equity, environmental justice, etc.
6. Familiarity with Queen's orientation activities
7. A creative mind to conceive of new programming ideas, and solutions to potential barriers
8. Knowledge of, and excited by the prospect of working on social and environmental justice issues; an understanding of the principles of anti-oppression
9. The ability to take initiative and work independently with minimal supervision

This position is expected to be for 30.0 hours per week, at $13.25/hour, for eight weeks. Working hours will mostly be during the day, during the week, with fairly frequent weekend and evening activities. Applications for this position should include a resume and cover letter outlining how your skills and experience match the position, and are due June 26th, 2017, at 4pm.
